BUILDING A FAIR AND EFFECTIVE SYSTEM

True system change occurs when all people are treated fairly and all services are delivered effectively.

Every community has a role. If we all do our part and do it well, together we can build a model homeless response system that is fair and effective for all Washingtonians.

BUILDING CHANGES IS DOING OUR PART TO BUILD A FAIR AND EFFECTIVE HOMELESS RESPONSE SYSTEM

• We advance promising strategies and proven solutions for impacting homelessness.
• We advocate for effective practices and fair policies—and adequate investments to sustain them.
• We develop the leadership and build the capacity of our partners.
• We share knowledge and insight gained through experience, data and evaluation.
• We pull together key stakeholders within and across systems for purposes of coordination and collaboration.
• We promote opportunities for all to succeed, regardless of race, ethnicity or income.
